Rome awards $1.6M contract vehicle to ARMA

by Fran Crumb, Information Directorate

ROME, N.Y. — The Air Force Research Laboratory's Information Directorate has awarded a $1,675,236 contract to Automated Resource Management Associates (ARMA) of Silver Springs, Md., to provide professional and technical support.

"This contract will provide a variety of support for the directorate's mission of advancing and applying information systems science and technology to meet Air Force-unique requirements for information dominance and its transition to aerospace systems to meet warfighter needs," said Joseph J. Turczyn, program manager in the directorate's Strategic Planning and Business Operations Division.

"The directorate has applied a new contracting vehicle that allows us to obtain high quality professional and technical services as needs arise over the next five years," said Turczyn. "We will be able to obtain services of technicians, engineers and consultants covering the entire information technology spectrum."

No administrative support services are included in the contract. Cindy L. Rutledge of the directorate's Operational Contracting Branch negotiated the agreement. @
